

"I hate country music. I'm not going to go!"

"I totally understand. I'm going to anyway though because I do like it."

"Sure. I get what you are saying."

"If I had any sense I wouldn't like it either." (Playful and validating at the same time)

"Why would anyone ever wear that?" (Referring to you)

"That feels a little judgmental to me, but I understand. You are more of a traditionalist."

"If you don't like it, that's OK, but it lets my wild side come out!"

"You don't like it? That's cool."

"Mom always treated you better."

"That seems like a fair opinion."

"I've always thought the opposite, but I also can see why you would say that."

"I respect your opinion about that, but I don't completely agree."

"I can't believe what those crazy conservatives/liberals are doing!" (Pick one)

"Knowing how you see things, it must be hard for you to see this happening."

"I kind of like it, but I see where you are coming from."

"Part of me really agree with you and part of me doesn't."
